PEOPLE WILL VOTE ON MEASURE

Law's Construction Vital in School District Dispute

WILL WORKING HAVE PEOPLE STATE VOTE ON WATER-POWER

City Attorney D. J. Hall, Mayor Louis Bartlett of Berkeley, D. J. Locke, city attorney of Alameda, Rudolph Spreckels and Francis J. Heney yesterday started an initiative campaign for the securing of the necessary signatures to place before the people of the state what is known as the "California Water Power Act."

Under the provisions of this act, if the people vote favorably upon it, a state water and power commission will be created for the purpose of developing, selling and furnishing water and power to the various municipalities of the state.

According to the statement made by those sponsoring the proposed act, the time has come for California to develop its own resources and they quote an official report of the railroad commission which states that a comprehensive state program for the next ten years will cost approximately $1,500,000,000. Estimates of public utility corporations say that $2,000,000,000 will be required.

ENCOURAGEMENT AND SET-BACKS IN TIE-UP OF BUILDING TRADES

SAN FRANCISCO, July 26.—The development in the building tie-up about the bay today, in which the San Francisco Building Trades Council are now attempting to call a general strike of all labor unions, resulted in some favorable action, and some setbacks.

From Oakland came the report of a special committee that the floor had been denied to the representatives of the general strike movement last night by the Alameda County Labor Council.

Instead the delegates from the conference committee were notified they might present their matter to the executive committee.

The other setback came from the Roofs Union of Oakland, which turned down the request of the special committee to approve the general strike movement.

Victories were scored through the endorsements of the general strike given by Carpenters' Union 394, the Millwrights' Union, Engineers' Union 641 of Oakland, Cement Workers' Union of San Francisco, Carpenters' Union 95 of San Francisco, Marble Workers' Union No. 9 and the Plasterers' Union.

The special strike committee will continue their visits to all individual unions as they meet from night to night.

It was pointed out that thus far strike referendum ballots have been sent only to unions affiliated with the Building Trades' Council.

The executive committee of the Labor Council met last night and is understood to have taken steps to prevent the spread of any general strike sentiment among the council's membership.

The council officers are said to be working on a plan to unite the officers of the unions affiliated with the council in opposition to the strike movement.

Oscar Dahl, secretary of the Richmond Building Trades Council, stated last evening, that so far the local organization had received no general strike literature, and no unions here had taken a ballot on the "general strike" question.

BUT ONE LEFT OF FAMILY AS RESULT OF ACT W. T. FENNELL HOLDS BERTH

Doctors stated yesterday that there was a bare chance that William Pennell, two-year-old son of W. T. Pennell, a former resident of Martinez, might be the only one to survive the tragedy in which his father practically wiped out his family. Pennell shot and killed his wife, their five-year-old son Elton, wounded the baby and himself.

The shooting, which marked the failure of an attempted reconciliation of the husband and wife, took place at the home of Mrs. Pennell's mother, Mrs. J. P. Long, thirteen miles west of Modesto.

The father, William T. Pennell, was 45 years old and an employee of the Associated Oil Company at Avon. Six weeks ago the couple, then living at Martinez, separated, when, it was said, the husband objected to his wife's association with one of her lifelong woman friends. Following the break, the children were sent to live with their grandmother, Mrs. Long, and the wife took up her residence in Tracy.

Tuesday the couple motored to the Long home to visit the children and attempt to effect a reconciliation. They went out on the front porch to talk it over.

Suddenly a fusillade of shots was heard. Mrs. Long rushed to the front door to see her daughter lying dead with a bullet through her left arm and another through her right lung; her grandson, Elton, had fallen with his heart punctured by another bullet and 2-year-old William was writhing with a wound in his abdomen.

The husband, after shooting himself twice in the breast, was swaying dizzily when Mrs. Long appeared. He pointed the revolver at her, warning her that he would kill her too. He pulled the trigger, but the weapon was empty. He fell dead on the porch.

Pennell was twelve years his wife's senior. The couple were married in Fresno in 1914.

TRUSTEES SAY PLACE VACANT TEACHER STILL HOLDS BERTH

A case arising out of the interpretations of the school laws, where in Mrs. Lucy Gonsalves claims the right to retain her former position as teacher of the Live Oak school, will be given a hearing at Martinez next Friday afternoon. The hearing will be conducted by Superintendent Hanlon.

According to Hanlon, the trustees of the Live Oak school verbally told Mrs. Gonsalves that her services as instructor in the school would not be required during the coming term. Following that, Hanlon states, Mrs. Gonsalves sent a written notice to the trustees stating that she had received the verbal notice and would resign.

Now, Hanlon states, Mrs. Gonsalves has decided to continue teaching in the Live Oak school during the coming year and has refused to give up the position on the ground that the trustees did not notify her in writing that her services were not required as is prescribed by law.

"The case involves a peculiar situation," Mr. Hanlon said yesterday. "The law specifically requires that notices of discharge must be written and must be issued prior to the tenth of June. Mrs. Gonsalves, of course, claims that she received no written notice from the trustees. On the other hand, however, Mrs. Gonsalves sent in a written notice stating that she would resign."

According to the Superintendent of Schools, both factions are determined in their contentions and say they will fight the case as far as possible.

Thief Grabs Purse Woman Of Richmond

Mrs. Annabelle Gusti of 559 Tewksbury avenue, reported to the Oakland police that her purse containing $40, was snatched from her hand by a pickpocket at the corner of Sixth and Broadway. The man escaped she said, before she could get a chance to see what he looked like. The $40, she said, was all the money she and her family possessed, and her husband has been out of work for some time.

"Come and get Me" is Reply of Gov. Small

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 26.—At an early hour this afternoon no move had been taken by county authorities to carry out the order of Judge E. S. Smith to place Governor Small under arrest. The warrant remained in the hands of Circuit Clerk Charles Klohn.

"Tell my attorneys not to attempt to delay the order of the court issuing warrants for my arrest," said the governor.

SON IN JAIL MOTHER DYING IN AUSTRALIA IS THE REPORT

The mother of Lester J. Bradshaw, the boy banker now awaiting trial in the jail at Martinez, is reported to be seriously ill and not expected to live, according to word received by Bradshaw yesterday from Australia.

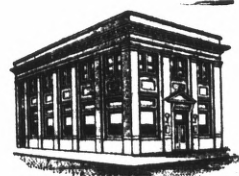

Bradshaw states that when his mother left him last December at Sydney she was in good health, but became ill from worry over his trial, and was taken sick before he sailed for the United States with Sheriff Veale.

Bradshaw is being held on a charge of forgery, in default of $10,000 bail, the case having grown out of alleged defalcation while Bradshaw was a teller in a Richmond bank. His trial has been set for the latter part of August.

THE TIME IS SHORT

Hustle is the key that will unlock the treasure chest that is so filled with magnificent Record-Herald prizes, by far the most valuable and attractive ever offered by any newspaper in this section of the state in recognition of energy and activity. Never before has there been such a glittering array of gifts presented as in the Record-Herald's great gift-giving campaign. And never were there such battles waged to win them. Present indications point to a hair-breadth finish. And, while it is certain that the winning votes will run high, it is also reasonably sure that the big motor cars will be won by a very narrow margin. Count your votes ---count the other fellow's votes ---then go out and hustle for more votes---always more votes. It would be better to win the prize you most desire by a million more votes than enough than to get left by a few hundred thousand---to let one of these beautiful cars slip through your fingers because you lacked a few thousand votes.

A MAN FOR THE AGES A STORY OF THE BUILDERS OF DEMOCRACY BY IRVING BACHELLER

SYNOPSIS.

CHAPTER I.—Samson and Sarah Traynor, with their two children, Josiah and Bessy, travel by wagon from their home in Vergennes, Vt., to the West, the land of plenty. Their destination is the country of the Sangamon, in Illinois.

CHAPTER II.—At Niagara Falls they meet a party of immigrants, among them a youth named John McNeil, who also decides to go to the Sangamon country. All of the party suffer from fever and ague. Sarah's ministrations save the life of a youth, Harry Needles, in the last stages of fever, and he accompanies the Traynors. They reach New Salem, Illinois, and are welcomed by young "Abe" Lincoln.

CHAPTER III.—Among the Traynors' first acquaintances are Lincoln's friends, Jack Kelso and his pretty daughter Bim. Bim is years of age.

CHAPTER IV.—Samson decides to locate at New Salem, and begins building his house. Led by Jack Armstrong, rowdies attempt to break up the proceedings. Lincoln thwarts Armstrong. Young Harry Needles strikes Bim McNeil, of the Armstrong crowd, and McNeil threatens vengeance.

CHAPTER V.—A few days later Harry, alone, is attacked by McNeil and his gang, and would have been roughly used had not Bim driven off his assailants with a shotgun. John McNeil, the Traynors' Niagara Falls acquaintance, is markedly attentive to Ann Lincoln. Lincoln is in love with Ann, but has never had enough courage to tell her so.

CHAPTER VI.—Traylor helps two slaves, who had run away from St. Louis, to escape. Elphage Biggs, owner of the slaves, following them, attempts to beat up Traylor and in a fight has his arm broken.

CHAPTER VII.—Waiting for his arm to heal, Biggs meets Bim Kelso, with whom Harry Needles has fallen in love. Biggs asks for Bim's hand, but her father refuses his consent. Biggs returns to St. Louis.

CHAPTER VIII.—Bim confesses to Harry that she loves Biggs, and the youth is disconsolate. Lincoln decides to seek a seat in the legislature. He and Harry undertake the Black Hawk war, and leave New Salem.

CHAPTER IX.—Biggs comes back to the village and he and Bim are far gone with a dangerous fever. Both Abe and Harry dropped their work and went home. Ann was too sick to see her lover.

The little village was very quiet those hot summer days. The sorrow of the pretty maiden had touched the hearts of the simple kindly folk who lived there. For a year or more there had been a tender note in their voices when they spoke of Ann. They had learned with great gladness of her engagement to marry Abe. The whole community were as one family with its favorite daughter about to be crowned with good fortune, greater than she knew. Now that she was stricken down, their feeling was more than sympathy. The love of justice, the desire to see a great wrong righted, in a measure, was in their hearts when they sought news of the little sufferer at the tavern.

There was no shouting in the street, no story-telling in the doorways, no jesting in the stores and houses, no merry parties, gladdened by the notes of the violin, in the days and nights of Ann's long illness.

Samson writes in his diary that Abe went about like a man in a dream, with no heart for work or study. He spent much time at the doctor's office, feeling for some straw of hope.

One day late in August, as he stood talking with Samson Traylor in the street, Doctor Allen called him from his doorstep. Abe turned very pale as he obeyed the summons.

"I've just come from her bedside," said Doctor Allen. "She wants to see you. I've talked it over with her parents, and we've decided to let you and her have a little visit together. You must be prepared for a great change in Ann. There's not much left of the poor girl. A breath would blow her away. But she wants to see you. It may be better than medicine. Who knows?"

The two men went across to the tavern. Mrs. Rutledge and Abe tipped up the stairway. The latter entered the room of the sick girl. The woman closed the door. Ann Rutledge was alone with her lover. There were none who knew what happened in that solemn hour save the two—one of whom was on the edge of eternity, and the other was never to speak of it. The only record of that hour is to be found in the face and spirit of a great man.

Years later Samson wrote in a letter: "I saw Abe when he came out of the tavern that day. He was not the Abe we had all known. He was different. There were new lines in his face. It was sorrowful. His steps were slow. He had passed out of his young manhood. When I spoke to him, he answered with that gentle dignity now so familiar to all who knew him. From that hour he was Abraham Lincoln."

Ann passed away before the month ended and became, like many of her kind, an imperishable memory. In her presence the spirit of the young man had received such a baptism that henceforward, taking thought of her, he was to love purity and all cleanliness, and no Mary who came to his feet with tears and ointment was ever to be turned away.

"The time is coming when you will take the bull by the horns," said Kelso. "There's no fence that will keep him at home."

"I hope that isn't true," Abe answered.

Soon Mrs. Kelso called Bim to set the table. She and Harry brought it out under the tree, where, in the cool shade, they had a merry dinner.

When the dishes were put away, Percy Brimstead arrived with his sister Annabel in their buggy. Bim went out to meet them and came into the doorway with her arm around Annabel's waist.

"Did any one ever see a lovelier girl than this?" Bim asked, as they stood up before the dinner party.

"Her cheeks are like wild roses, her eyes like the dew on them when the sun is rising," said Kelso.

Abe rose and said: "The day is passing. I'll start on with Parsons and the pony and read my stint afout. You can give me a few minutes. By the time you overtake me I'll be ready to get into the saddle."

Half an hour or so after Abe had gone, Harry's horse, which had been whinnying for his mate, bounded out of the stable and went galloping down the road, having slipped his halter.

"He will not stop until he overtakes the other horse," said Harry.

"You can ride with us," Annabel suggested.

So the young man brought his saddle and bridle and put it under the seat of the buggy and got in with Annabel and her small brother.

Some two miles down the road Harry found Abe standing between the horses, holding the runaway by his forelock. The latter was saddled and bridled, while the buggy went on ahead.

"That is a wonderful girl," said Harry, as he and Abe were riding along together. "She is very modest and gentle hearted."

"And as pleasant to look at as the flowery meadows," Abe answered.

"I have promised to stop there a few minutes on our way back."

"It is possible Bim could get a divorce," said Abe, looking down thoughtfully at the mane of his horse.

"I'll ask Stuart what he thinks about it when I see him again."

"I hope you'll see him soon."

"As soon as I can get to Springfield."

Next day a letter came from Doctor Allen, telling him that Ann was far gone with a dangerous fever. Both Abe and Harry dropped their work and went home. Ann was too sick to see her lover.

Jack Holt Star in 'The Mask' at the Richmond

Coming to the rescue of one's self sounds like a difficult proposition, but it can be done in motion pictures if one is playing a dual role. The "impossible" has been accomplished by Jack Holt, who has the leading role in "The Mask," which comes to the Richmond Theater today and tomorrow.

Holt plays a double part, that of twin brothers, Kenneth Traynor, a young American business man, and "Handsome Jack," black sheep of the Traynor family. Attacked by a gang of ruffians, bent on robbing him of the priceless gem he carries, Kenneth is saved by his brother, whom he had not seen in years. In this way Holt, who plays both parts, gains the distinction of having come to his own rescue. Some of the most remarkable pieces of dual photography ever screened are accredited to this film. In the leading feminine role opposite Holt is Hedda Nova. Other members of the cast, well known to picture fans, are little Mickey Moore, Fred Malatesta, Harry Lonsdale, Byron Munson, Janice Wilson and William Clifford.

"The Mask" is a Col. Wm. N. Selig production, having been adapted to the screen from the story of the same name by Arthur Hornblow. It was directed by Bertram Bracken, who has a number of notable screen productions to his credit.

A Buster Keaton comedy and a Pathe News reel complete the bill.

THEY ARE MILD BUT EFFECTIVE
A person with inactive or slowed up digestive organs suffers doubly from hot weather. Biliousness, headaches, blurred vision, bad breath, coated tongue are almost certain to be present with a mass of heat-producing undigested food in the stomach. Foley Cathartic Tablets keep the digestive organs active and the system fit and fine, purged of poisons. W. D. Kennedy, Albany, N. Y., says: "Foley Cathartic Tablets are mild but effective."

THROAT TROUBLE CURED

Oakland, Nov. 1, 1929. To whom it May Concern:
I suffered from throat trouble for 15 years, during which time I could neither eat nor swallow without pain. I became very weak and was unable to work for months. I had numerous doctors and then tried a Throat specialist, who told me that my trouble was due to the blood. He advised me to take blood medicine. Thereupon my brother, who had been cured of Stomach Trouble by the FONG WAN HERBS, urged me to try them. After drinking the herbs for 15 weeks, I felt entirely well. I have since gained 25 pounds. It is 10 months since I took the herbs, and I am now giving this testimonial to let the public know that any sufferer should try the FONG WAN HERBS. I am a watchman for the California Food Specialties Co.

RICHMOND RECORD-HERALD A RICHMOND PAPER FOR RICHMOND PEOPLE

The time to Advertise is all the Time.
It Always Pays

Mrs. L. M. Howard Leads List Mrs. Clara Wilson is Second and Miss V. Toffoli the third

The close Monday night of the first big vote period in the Record-Herald's Gift Distribution brings to the front a new leader, Mrs. L. M. Howard, popular wife of the city's well-known patrolman, Earl G. Howard.

Although getting a late start, her daily gains have been steady and consistent and reflect great credit on her ability as a hustler. The leader is closely followed, however, by the present claimant of first honors.

And now for the whirlwind finish. Now for the sensations and surprises. These are the days that will test the resourcefulness of the candidates. Here is where their courage upholds them and makes them fight, or the lack of it takes the stiffness out of their knees and leaves them trailing in the dust in an also ran. There are times, too, when supreme courage urges them on when they tire and that is the GREATEST FIGHT OF ALL.

Votes will pile up rapidly during the next ten days; that is while the "second period" schedule is in effect. The LIVELIEST part of the competition is now at hand and while all the leaders are on the same footing, at the same time, those who want to and will are afforded the opportunity of the entire campaign to forge ahead and corral the winning votes.

From now on until the finish is the time when 100 per cent efficiency counts.

During the "second period" (these next ten days) subscriptions will count big; in fact, they count for almost as many now as during the "first period" just closed. For example one five-year subscription counts 160,000 votes plus the club vote or a total of 410,000, where formerly 450,000 votes were given.

Better Be Safe Than Sorry.
A few more laps and the course will have been run. Only a short time remains to choose between victory and defeat—success or failure. Don't overlook a single chance to enter your opportunity to win. Avail yourself of every opportunity this "period" affords.

And now the fatal FINAL HOME STRETCH.

'Tis the coward who quits to misfortune.
'Tis the knave who changes each day.
'Tis the fool who starts like a whirlwind.
Then throws all his chances away.
The time to succeed is when others discouraged, show traces of tire;
The battle is fought on the home stretch.
And WON 'twixt the flag and the wire.

Bank Employees Will be Taken To Stanford

The annual week end outing of the employees of the First National bank, at which Charles J. Cray, president of the bank, is host will take place next Saturday and Sunday. Mr. Cray will take the bank men to Stanford university, where they will be the guests of his fraternity over the week-end. Swimming, tennis and other sports will be enjoyed. This is an annual event and the boys look forward to it with much anticipation.

STANDING OF THE CANDIDATES

The following is the list of those who have been nominated thus far in the Record-Herald's big automobile contest showing the votes of each cast for publication up till Twelve o'clock yesterday.

ON THE HOME STRETCH

Going up!
Swinging into line, all atingle with high hopes and ambition. Candidates in the Record-Herald's now famous campaign have swelled their vote totals to a wonderfully high mark, and from now on to the finish it will be a pretty exciting race between the leaders.

The first period of the campaign, which closed Monday night, was a tremendous success. Tens of thousands, yes hundreds of thousands of votes, were issued, and every "live" candidate profited mightily.

The race is a close one, there being but a few short term subscriptions between the highest and the lowest candidates and, therefore most depends upon the results obtained by the various contestants between now and the finish as to who the ultimate winners will be. The struggle for supremacy will be fought out during the next few days, for the entire campaign comes to a fateful close in just a few weeks. The "second period" closes one week from Saturday night.

The First National bank employees have had a very successful year in athletics. After a successful basketball season, tennis and baseball are now occupying their attention. A fine tennis court on Sixteenth street between Bissell and Macdonald, has been completed and the employees are now using it. Their baseball team plays every week.

LEAVES FOR ARIZONA
Mrs. M. L. Anderson of 100 Bissell avenue is leaving for Williams, Ariz., to visit her brother, James H. Hudson. She expects to be gone until the first of September.

Teeth Like Pearls In Healthy Gums

"Ukle," another great find, manufactured by Dr. McCord and G. L. Bowers, both of whom have spent many years of scientific study and research in perfecting this discovery, used constantly makes the teeth like a double row of pearls set in healthy gums.

"Ukle," (don't forget the name, UKLE) is a reliable and soothing Pyorrhea relief in the form of a delightful tooth powder. Ukle contains no acid and no gritty substance, and so cannot scratch nor mar the enamel of the teeth. Ukle is like NO other tooth powder or remedy in the world. Ukle not only relieves Pyorrhea at once, but marvellously heals bleeding gums. Ukle is salubrious, and leaves the mouth, teeth and gums in perfect condition. UKLE—diseased gums cry for it, Good Teeth DIF for it—IF NOT USED.

UKLE—Ask for it at La Moine Drug Co., Richmond.

Today's Leader

MRS. L. M. HOWARD.

Possessing a very ambitious and persevering nature, today's leader in the Record-Herald's big "Battle of Ballots" is one that can be depended upon to always be well up in the first.

Having accomplished the feat of going from the bottom to the top of the list in less than ten days is the best evidence of her ability to get business.

Mrs. Howard's many friends are claiming that she will be among the big prize winners when the final count is made.

IF SKIN BREAKS OUT IS FIERY, ITCHY OR ROUGH, USE SULPHUR
Just the moment you apply Mentho-Sulphur to an itching, burning or broken out skin, the itching stops and healing begins, says a noted skin specialist. This sulphur preparation, made into a pleasant cold cream, gives such a quick relief, even to fiery eczema, that nothing has ever been found to take its place.

Because of its germ destroying properties, it quickly subdues the itching, cools the irritation and heals the eczema right up, leaving a clear, smooth skin in place of ugly eruptions, rash, pimples or roughness.

You do not have to wait for improvement. It quickly shows. You can get a little jar of Mentho-Sulphur at any drug store.

At the regular meeting of Onetah Tribe No. 183, Improved Order of Red Men last night, reports were heard and discussed, after which some very interesting talks were made by Past Great Sachem C. S. Hannum, Past Sachem F. L. Kreig and Past Sachem H. Hollenbaugh.

The drill team then took the floor preparing for the competitive drill to be given under the auspices of the Great Council of California at San Francisco August 12.

Captain W. I. Lautenschlager is confident that his team is going to win first prize and every effort is being made by the team to have his confidence repaid. They hope to carry off the prize and bring it back to Richmond.
